

Reddit API ETL Project

Overview:

The development of an ETL pipeline utilizing Reddit's API to extract subreddit data, transform it into a structured format, and load it into a database for analysis.

Impact:

Empowered stakeholders to gain insights into trending topics, user engagement, and community dynamics, aiding decision-making in content creation and community management.

Outcome:

Successfully deployed a robust ETL pipeline for extracting and analyzing Reddit data, providing actionable insights for stakeholders to drive strategic initiatives and enhance engagement in online communities.
